

STYNCH & MASTERSON MORTUARY

"Where saying Goodbye is just a little easier."

If you're like most people you've probably never stopped and thought about the details and decisions involved in arranging your own funeral. It's natural to put unpleasant thoughts and responsibilities toward the back of our mental closets, yet we all know that those plans must indeed be made. Unfortunately, most often arrangements are made by grieving loved ones experiencing almost unbearable stress and emotional devastation. It's ironic, when you consider how easily the whole matter can be settled in a pleasant afternoon at Stynch & Masterson, southern California's low-cost leader for all interment and mortuary services.

You see, our funeral counselors are specially trained to help the layman understand the ultimate necessities of body disposal. We think a lot about death, and for us it's just everyday business, a natural healthy part of the entire experience of life. We'd like to help you see things from our perspective, and we're ready to listen to yours. We understand and even share your feelings for the departed, and we'll go to any extreme to show it.

So why not drop by today? You'll feel better you did.

Visit our air-conditioned showrooms to make your selection from a wide variety of the late model caskets, vaults, and urns. Pick up a colorful brochure, and enjoy a complimentary beverage while you stroll out to the Chapel of Lasting Memories. Stop in at The Outbuilding and meet our award-winning embalmers and cosmeticians, noted for their work in difficult reconstructive cases including burns and high-impact sudden deaths. And if, you're a family with kids, don't let that hold you back. Just drop the little ones at our own nursery, where they'll be entertained by "Morty" Masterson & his magic bag of tricks.

Whatever choices you make, interment or cremation, traditional or "New Age" service, open or closed casket, Stynch & Masterson is guaranteed to provide the finest in economical care for you and your loved one.
